Virginia Legislature.

On Saturday last, the engrossed bill for equalizing the Representation in the Senate, and equalizing the land tax, came before the house of Delegates, when a motion was made by Mr Hay to lay it on the table—A discussion ensued, when various reasons were urged for and against the proposition. Mr Blackburn the father of the bill, wished it to go on to "the regions above" [as he called the Senate,] with the avowed wish of defeating the Convention Bill, now before that body. Mr Hay wished the bill to lay on the table, and avowed a desire to prevent it from defeating the convention—Upon taking the question, it was carried, ayes 72, noes 71—And the bill of course lays on the table.

The bill for incorporating a company to form the Manchester Canal, came on upon the question of engrossing it—when much discussion ensued upon a motion of Mr. Marshall's to postpone the bill till the 31st of March, which was lost. Mr. Robertson [of Richmond then moved to postpone it till Monday, to give the James River Company an opportunity of appearing at the bar of the house by counsel. On motion of Mr. Smyth, the question was divided and it was taken first on the motion for postponement—which was lost—so, the bill was ordered to be engrossed, and past to its 3rd reading.

The House then resolved itself into a committee of the Whole on the bill respecting the arrears of taxes due on delinquent lands, various amendments were agreed to, which were ordered to be printed.

NEW-YORK, Feb. 5.

The information contained in the following article was written by the late Governeur Morris, and furnished for publication in 1807, when the claim of Beaumarchais, was first presented to Congress No man then living, was probably so conversant with the facts detailed. At a subsequent day he treated the subject very much at large in another article which we shall shortly take an opportunity to re publish.

Beaumarchais.—In the revolutionary war, America received supplies of cloathing and military stores from Mr. de Beaumarchais. It was notorious that this gentleman was incapable of furnishing them from his own resources; it was believed, therefore, that he derived his means from the royal treasury. Afterwards, when Mr. Franklin, the American minister, settled our accounts with monsieur de Vergennes, the United States were charged under three distinct heads viz: Loans, subsidies and free gift. The payments were pointed out, except that of 1.0 0.000, given in 1776; and when Mr. Franklin desired to know what had become of that money, he was told that being a gift, no explanation was necessary. Mr. Franklin was, or appeared to be satisfied Before that settlement, however, Mr. Beaumarchais, who had an agent in America, pressed for payment of supplies furnished, and obtained from congress, bills for two million, two hundred thousand livres on their ministers in Europe, who, by the bye had no means of payment. Mr. Gerard, the French minister at Philadelphia, [brother to Mr. Rayneval, a secretary in the count de Vergennes' office) patronized Mr de Beaumarchais' demand, which however, was represented by some of the public servants in Europe, as wholly unfounded, and a mere scheme to put money in the pockets of individuals There was much opposition, therefore in congress. The resolution was carried, on the principle, that America, having received the supplies, ought to pay for them: That to say the court furnished funds, was an assertion without proof; and the claim being made with the privity & countenance of the French minister, it was to be presumed, agreeable to his superiors; finally that as the American minister in Paris, would hardly accept the bills before he was assured of means to pay them, the court could, if they pleased, set matters right there.

The sebills made afterwards a serious reduction from a subsidy of six millions, granted by the king for carrying on the war. When Monsieur de la Luzerne, the successor of Monsieur Gerard, learnt that the subsidy had been anticipated in that manner, he expressed dissatisfaction in strong terms, and desired, that if Mr Beaumarchais made any more claims he might be referred for payment to the French court.

The claim slept for a long time, & as it seemed pretty clear that the million unaccounted for had been fingered by Mr. Beaumarchais, it was natural to press for a disclosure in order that it might be charged to him here, in the settlement of his accounts; but Mr. Franklin, conceiving perhaps that the circumstance was not important, made the settlement above mentioned. Perhaps he could obtain no other Perhaps he did not feel himself in a condition to insist that the alleged gifts should not appear in the account, till the application of it was disclosed. Perhaps the old gentleman thought it most prudent to let the article stand open for such elucidation as time might afford.

Two reasons may be assigned for secrecy. The one, of a public nature certainly had weight. France had affected a strict neutrality previous to the treaty by which our Independence was acknowledged, and had occasionally given assurances to that effect; and even at Lord Stormont's instigation had seized goods and embargoed vessels destined to this country. On these occasions, Beaumarchais made strong representations, claiming his rights as a citizen, and complaining of the injury to his property. These which were [not] calculated for Lord Stormont's inspection, proved a little too much. Persons who understood the French government, knew that such remonstrances would not have been hazarded by any one, not previously sure of protection.—If however after so many assurances it had been acknowledged that this very sir Beaumarchais was employed by the Minister to send out these very goods at the King's expense, it would have furnished the British government with the proof they want ed.

The second was perhaps the efficient reason, though of a private nature.—Perhaps the French Minister good naturedly, wished that America in prosperity, should refund to the King's subjects what had been granted by his Majesty's bounty in our adverse condition, and he might not be unwilling that Mr. Rayneval an old and able servant should share a handsome sum with Mr. Beaumarchais

After the king was dethroned, the American Minister in France was so fortunate as to obtain a copy of Mr. Beaumarchais' receipts. Now as the French government formerly alleged the free gift of a million; and as the receipt of Mr. Beaumarchais has been since given to shew how that million was disposed of, it seems no more than reasonable at this time, when they demand payment for Mr Beaumarchais, that they should prove the million in question was applied to our use in some other way.

And e's Captors

Col. Talmadge's attack on the character of the 3 American yeoman, who captured Major Andre having having been made known to one of them, Mr. Van Wart, he came down yesterday from West Chester county, to see me on the subject, and to take measures to rebut those charges, the object of which is to take from him and his companions, not only all claims of merit but to render them infamous, by representing them to have been Cowboys, in plainer English cattle stealers. He introduced himself by a letter from the Rev. Mr. Smith of Tarrytown In this letter Mr. Smith expresses himself in these words.

"It is a truth as incontestible as the existence of the sun, that Isaac Van Wart sustains as excellent a character as any in the county of West Chester, & ever did from his youth. And proof can be made by some hundreds of persons now living, that neither Van Wart, Paulding nor Williams, ever were in the British camp, and that they never were suspicious persons, but on the contrary were true supporters of the rights and liberties of their country. Upon this subject there is not a single observation made by Mr. Talmadge, which points at the true characters of these men"

A gentleman who accompanied Mr. Van Wart, and on whom I can rely, assures me, that his character has been during his whole life, entirely unimpeachable, in every respect, and that he is a strictly moral and religious man, having been for twenty years a member in communion with the church.

Mr. Van Wart intends to make a statement, upon oath, of all that took place, at the capture of Andre, and to support it, with such further corroborative proof, as shall leave no doubt on any man's mind. in this I have promised him all the assistance in my power and I hope to have every thing prepared for publication, in the course of a fortnight

I was much pleased with Mr. Van Wart's personal appearance: he is respectable and being advanced in years, even venerable. His face is one of those in which honesty is written most legibly; and when he came to speak on the subject of his visit it was "more in sorrow than in anger" He appeared solicitous only for the restoration of his fair fame and that of his companions. His circumstances are easy and comfortable, as he owns a neat farm of about a hundred and fifty acres which he cultivates with skill and industry. In politics he has been a uniform supporter of the principles of the Washington school and has been to this day and is now a federalist and must confess, I could not but sympathise with him, when he learned that it was from a federalist that he had received the deep and enormous injury of which he complained.

Charm of Music upon a Rattlesnake.

The following description from the "Airs of Palestine," of the charm of music upon the Rattlesnake, is founded upon a fact stated by Chateaubriand in his Genie du Christianisme, in which a Canadian flute player so completely charmed the Snake as to lead him away from the encampment into which he had penetrated, by the mere power of sound:

While thus the enthusiast roams along the stream,
Balanc'd between a reverie and a dream,
Backward he springs: and, through his bounding heart,
The cold and curdling poison seems to dart.
For, in the leaves, beneath a quivering brake,
Spinning his death note, lies a coiling snake,
Just in the act, with greenly venom'd fangs,
To strike the foot, that heedless o'er him hangs.
Bloated with rage, on spiral foals he rides:
His rough scales shiver on his spreading sides
Dusky and dim his glossy neck becomes,
And freezing poisons thicken on his gums:
His parch'd and hissing throat breathes hot and dry;
A spark of hell lies burning on his eye:
While, like a vapour, o'er his writhing rings,
Whirls his light tail, that threatens while he sings.

Soon as dumb Fear moves her icy fingers
From off the heart, where grazing wonder lingers,
The pilgrim, shrinking from a doubtful fight,
Aware of danger, ton, in sudden flight;
From his soft flute throws Music's air around,
And meets the foe upon enchanted ground.
See! as the plaintive melody is flung,
The lightning flash fades on the serpent's tongue,
The uncoiling reptile o'er each shining fold
Throws changeful clouds of azure, green and gold;
A softer lustre twinkles in his eye:
His neck is burnish'd with a glossier dye
His slippery scales grow smoother to the sight,
And his relaxing circles roll in light—
Slowly the charm retires:—with waving sides
Along its track the graceful listner glides
While music throws her silver cloud around,
And bears her votary off, in magic folds of sound.

ALEXANDRIA.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 13.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

February 12.

The Bill for compensating sufferers on the Niagara frontier for the losses sustained by them from the enemy, was yesterday again the whole day before a committee of the house, without any thing definitive being done in it. It will be on again to day, but how it will end who can venture to say till it is ended.

The Senate, it is understood, have before them a Treaty of Commerce and Navigation, said to have been concluded between our late Minister, Mr. Russel, and the government of Sweden. As on these subjects the Senate acts with closed doors we are not of course apprized of the terms of the Treaty, nor of the proceedings of the Senate thereon. N. Int.

MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT.

Such has been the misconception or misrepresentation of the annual expense of our military establishment, as to induce a careful examination of the military laws and regulations, for the purpose of forming, for private satisfaction, a true estimate; of which the subjoined is the result:

Where the military laws and regulations did not furnish sufficient data, recourse has been had to printed documents now before congress, viz: the general estimate of the treasury department of the 6th January, 1817, and the report of the war department to the committee of ways and means, of the 6th January 1817 and the report of existing contracts for supplying rations &c of the 11th Jan 1817, selecting such items only as belong to the annual expense of the army, believing that the erection and repair of fortifications, and furnishing magazines of ordnance and permanent munitions, and the military academy, no more belong to army expenses than the repai of the Capitol or the erection of buildings for a national university. If, then, out of the above authorized force, which includes every man, who can belong to the army, it is estimated that 10,000 rank & file may be constantly kept in service, and the whole expense of the military service is charged to the soldiers, it will amount to about $321 50 each, per year

Army Estimate.

Pay of the army, including all officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates, & allowing for 500 mechanics and laborers of ordnance, the number being not limited by law — Calculated from the army laws.	$1,183,288,00
Subsistence for all officers, and subsistence for 12,00 non-commissioned officers musicians, privates, mechanics and laborers, attached to the ordnance, at 18 cents per ration, estimated from the average of existing contracts, as reported to congress by the secretary of war, Jan. 1, 1817,	788 400,00
Clothing for 12000 non-commissioned officers, musicians, privates, including mechanics and laborers of ordnance, calculated from the average cost of clothing, as reported in the army regulations $57 83 per man,	453,600,00
Allowance for servants, estimating for all the private servants, authorized by the army regulations, to officers who are prohibited from employing soldiers as waiters, estimated from the laws and army regulations, 361 private servants, at $14 10 each per month.	61,081,20
Quarter Master Department, estimating for all expenses authorizing by army regulations viz. Forage, Fuel and Stationary allowed for officers, and fuel and straw for the army—the repair of barracks, and the purchase of horses &c. The war expenditures in the department furnish no just data and reference is had to the expense before the war, when the authorized peace establishment was nearly as large as the present army. Those estimates ave age 320.000dol. lars per annum, and on comparing them with the printed report of the Secretary of war, of January 6, submitted to the committee of Ways & Means, that is deemed sufficiently liberal.	460,000,00
Hospital Department, including casual compensation to citizen surgeons, at posts where there may be no army doctors. Taken from the estimates of the Apothecary and Commissary General of purchases, as reported to the committee of Ways and Means, by the Secretary of War, January 6, 1817	50,000,00
Bounties and premiums for 8,400 recruits, being one fifth of the authorized establishment, predicated on keeping it constantly filled, the term of service being 5 years—12 dollars bounty, and 2 dollars premium for each man.	33,600,00
Contingencies of the military service, allowing under this head, double the estimate of the War Department,	200,000,00

AMERICAN COMMERCE.

We have been favored by an eminent mercantile house in this town, with the following very important Communication:—Phil: paper

Extract of a letter from New-York, 12th October.

"The people of Leeds must be crazy. They certainly will not get returns for one half of the amount they have shipped. You can conceive of nothing so appalling as the state of trade here. Among the British goods, merchants particularly, bankruptcies are very frequent, enormous in amount and ruinous in their settlement; and the dry goods, especially low woollens, are selling under the hammer at a loss of 30 to 60 per cent.—No private sales can be made, as from 400 to 1200 packages are sold by auction every week. No parallel to the present sufferings of the trade can be found in the history of this country; and it is likely to continue so, for your countrymen are determined to send goods here till they are all ruined. It is very unjust in them first to sell us all the goods they can, and then to destroy our market by forcing into it the refuse of their shops. But this time they will catch a Tartar. In the meantime this country is delightfully prosperous and happy—the merchants and speculators suffer; but the sovereign people have clothing cheap, money plenty, and food in profusion.—Thank God we have still something to rejoice about."

This information confirms the accounts of the American papers. Other accounts from Boston, U. S. of the 18th ult. state that it is impossible to describe the distressed state of those who have imported largely in British manufactures. The sacrifice making on sales of their importations were as great as from 20 to 30 per cent; and the stock of goods on hand being very great, an amendment in the market could not of course be expected. These distresses were augmented by the holders of British goods sending on from New York to Philadelphia (where they could not effect sales under 40 or 50 per cent loss) large quantities, to be sold at Boston.

Greensburg, Pen. Jan. 25

On Monday evening last, James Black stage driver, while driving the mail stage seven miles west of this place, on the road to Pittsburgh, was frozen to death and fell from his seat. This distressing event took place about day break, and the horses going on correctly as usual, he was not missed by the passengers in the stage until they had proceeded two and a half miles from the spot where he fell, nor until they were hailed by a person who had discovered the dead body, and followed them with the information.

The Mechanism of the feet of Insects.

Sir E Home, not many month since, read a paper to the Royal Society giving a further account of the mechanism by means of which insects can walk contrary to gravity, as, up perpendicular walls, or along the roofs of rooms. Since his first paper was read, Mr. Brewer has drawn the apparatus of the feet of flies, determined by means of the microscope. It turns out to be different from what he had formerly described. In the common bottle fly, every toe is supported with two suckers, very similar in appearance to the pices of wet leather and the string with which boys litt up stone. These suckers appear to be put in action by the voluntarily muscles of the insect. In the horse fly, each toe is supplied with three suckers. These suckers may be seen by means of a glass, when a common fly is walking along the inside of a tumbler.

THE COMPLAINT.

Hints for Farmers.

On account of the scarcity of some kinds of grain during the present season, the following extract may be of some service.

"Horses may be kept in good order by feeding them with raw potatoes, or carrots, washed clean; though they would be more nourishing if they could conveniently be fed on them when boiled.

Boiled hay will keep hogs during winter; the addition of some potatoes, boiled with the hay, will keep them better.

Feeding sheep with Indian corn, about half a gill each per day, is very beneficial and keeps the flock in good heart.

It is a fact not commonly known, that the reason why hens do not lay eggs in winter, is the want of lime to form the shell. Let them have access to wheat, which contains lime, or to lime itself, they will lay as well in winter as any other time. There is a town in the county of Schenectady where lime stone abounds, and where the shell of eggs is much thicker than common, for this very reason."

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

Sergeant's Inn Hall, October 30.

CULLEN vs BUTLER.

This was an action on a policy of insuance on ship and cargo. The policy contained all the usual provisions and securities against perils of the sea seizures in an enemy's port, capture &c. and there was also provision for the remaining risks.

The vessel proceeded on her voyage, in the course of which she was met by a British ship of war, who mistaking her for an enemys vessel, fired into her, and in consequence of the damage she sustained she was lost. The owners brought their action against the underwriters who resisted payment, on the ground that the vessel was not lost by any of the risks covered by the policy. The action was tried before Lord Ellenborough at Guildhall, and a verdict was taken for the plaintiff with leave from his Lordship either to move for a nonsuit, or to make a special case of it.

The court held, that a loss under these circumstances could not be considered as a loss by peril of the sea. The remaining question, viz. whether it was a loss covered by the clause for remaning risks, was one more particularly calling for the consideration of the court. The question was, whether the clause for remaining risks was not confined to risks which might be contemplated; amongst which might be and certainly would be, capture by an enemy, if not provided for in any other part of the policy. But how far the risk by which the present loss arose could be anticipated; was a question. The underwriters most probably only anticipated hostile capture and not this civil wrong. It was a new case and they would take time to consider of it. Judgment deferred. London Paper.

Notice.

The public are hereby informed that a Company has been formed under the title of THE QUANTICO WAREHOUSE COMPANY, who have erected, one mile below the town of Dumfries, a large and convenient Warehouse on Quantico creek; for the storage of flour, grain, etc. which warehouse will be ready for the reception of produce on Monday the third of Feb. next. The trustees of said Company have appointed Zebulon Kankey their Agent, to attend the said Warehouse, to receive produce on storage and grant receipts for the same. And for the prompt delivery of all articles received in the said warehouse by their agent, (fire alone excepted) the Company hold themselves bound. All persons depositing flour, grain, etc. must pay, before taken away, the following storage, viz. For each barrel of flour 6 cents; if it remains in said warehouse one month 8 cents; and in the same proportion for the time it may remain. For each bushel of wheat or other grain two cents; if it remains over one month three cents; and in the same proportion for the time it may remain. And for all articles of merchandise a reasonable storage only will be demanded. Persons storing flour may have it inspected, or not, at their option. If not inspected, the agent's receipt will specify the brand and the state of the barrels. The weight of one bushel wheat, running measure of each load or parcel of wheat. All articles stored, the same to be returned to the owner when called for, be it flour, wheat, other grain, etc. Customary allowances for wastage, etc excepted.

Quantico Warehouse is situated on Quantico Creek, only two miles from its junction with the Potomac river, at all times navigable for lighters. There are belonging to this creek a sufficient number of lighters to ensure a quick transportation down the creek of all articles stored. Vessels may be got to take produce to the district of Columbia, Baltimore, Norfolk, or elsewhere. The present freights are—To the district twelve and half cents per barrel of flour, and to Baltimore and Norfolk 25 cents from the mouth of Quantico. The proximity of this warehouse to a large extent of country, added to the goodness of roads leading to it from the westward being little inferior to paved ones, it being found by actual survey little more than 25 miles from Hay Market to Dumfries, will, it is confidently believed by the trustees, by this route greatly lessen the expense of transportation of produce even to the district of Columbia, and they pledge themselves to the public to use every means within their power to give satisfaction.

JAMES KENNEDY & SON,

BOOKSELLERS, KING STREET,

Have just received from LEE'S PATENT MEDICINE Store, No. 46 Maiden Lane, N. York.

A FRESH SUPPLY

Of the following genuine Medicines.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills.

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern & Middle States, particularly in N. York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburg, Richmond, Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons at each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives, when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.

It is not, indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile & prevent its morbid secretions—to restore & amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which is so often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions or foulness in their stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of, as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and perfectly innocent. It contains nothing but what is constitution. nocent, and is also mild in its operation, cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS.

And the symptoms by which they are known:

Worms which infest the human body, are chiefly of four kinds, viz.—The Teres, or large round worm; the Ascarides, or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina, or short, flat, white worm; and lastly, the Tænia, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long, and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious; purging, with slimy & fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success, in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent the vomiting and purging of chint'—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys the hand of the infa part of our citizens likewise the mildest and m cer tain remedy known; and als restore robust alth and strength a great numb when in an advanced stage of this fa complaint. Particular and plain instr tions are given for every part of the cessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medi with eagerness; having a pleasing app ance, and an agreeable taste.
